

C. G. LANGSTON, LOCAL EDITOR.

Race continues to advance in price.

Two or three Cherokee Indians were in the city last week.

The merchants report collections very good up to this time.

It is against the law to hunt birds before the 1st of November.

Oh, A. Coward, Postoffice Inspector, was in the city last Friday.

Good middling cotton was quoted on Wednesday at from 82 to 84.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Blockley have returned from an extended trip North.

Three hundred and forty bales of cotton were sold in the city last Saturday.

The Planter's Restaurant received the first fresh oysters of the season last Friday.

Capt. W. Y. Holland was in the city on Monday, looking "his fat and sassy" as ever.

If you know any news, drop in and give it to us. Such favors are always appreciated.

Court opens next Monday morning. Let the jurors and witnesses be on hand promptly.

Some of our citizens say they saw foot last Sunday morning. It was too dry to do any harm.

Rev. E. C. Rice will preach at Hopewell on the second Sunday in October, at 11 o'clock a. m.

A young friend, Frank O. DuPre, of Abbeville, C. H., has been spending a few days in the city.

Send us your orders for letters, envelopes, bill heads, etc. Our prices are guaranteed the lowest.

By this time next year "the primaries" will be over and the successful candidates will be happy.

Mr. L. P. McKinney will sell his house and lot next Monday to the highest bidder. See advertisement.

The farmers are yet having very little rain. It has been too dry even to prepare their ground.

J. W. Quattlebaum, Esq., has been appointed Trial Justice to succeed J. C. Whitfield, Esq., deceased.

Miss Varina Brown left the city last week to resume her duties at Yassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

A Convention of farmers has been called to meet in the Court House next Monday. There should be a full attendance.

Died, on the 20th inst., John W., only son of Wm. S. and Lelina K. McGregor, aged four months and twelve days.

The farmers are having most favorable weather for gathering the cotton crop, and are pushing the work vigorously.

Judging from reports the crop of sorghum in this County is immense.

This will save many dollars to our people.

Our cotton buyers have run the cotton market up to the very highest pitch and mean to keep it there during the season.

Mr. Will Wilson is now clerking for Faint & Co., where he will be pleased to see and serve his friends at any time.

Let everybody do his level best to pay every body his own, and this will help powerfully towards breaking up the "hard times."

Miss Lizzie Lipford, one of Abbeville County's most charming young ladies, is spending a few days in the city with friends.

The man who attempts to do business of any kind without advertising invariably fails to attract the best class of customers.

We are requested to announce that the Lord's Supper will be administered at the Baptist Church in Belton on next Sunday morning.

Next Monday is Saturday. There are a number of tracts of land advertised for sale by the Master. A large crowd will likely come to the city.

Mr. D. E. Carls is about this year on turkeys. He sowed on August 4th, and last Monday brought us a turkie measuring four inches in diameter.

The Stock Show at Pendleton next Tuesday will attract a large crowd of visitors, not only from our own County, but also from surrounding Counties.

While you have a little money, and are waiting upon your accounts, don't forget to pay your preacher. Take the printer, he can't live on air and water alone.

The engine attached to the down-freight got off of the track at the Blue Ridge Yard last Saturday, and was delayed an hour or two. There was no damage done.

A wise exchange remarks that in ancient times kindling a pretty girl was a cure for headache. It is difficult to improve upon some of these old time remedies.

Mr. T. R. Dickson and family, of this County, left last Saturday for California, where they will in future reside. They carry with them the best wishes of many friends.

The Abbeville Advertiser says: "Prof. M. L. Willis has organized a class in vocal music at this place. He has taught in this County, and proved himself a capable instructor."

Be sure to read Miss Lizzie Williams' new advertisement, which appears elsewhere. She has a fine stock of goods, and her lady friends should not fail to inspect them.

Married, on Wednesday, September 21, 1887, by Rev. W. S. Wrightman, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Landy Wood, Jr., and Miss Lelia Evans, all of Anderson County.

If the cotton continues to open for the next few weeks as it has for the past few, and the farmers succeed in picking it as fast as it opens, there will not be much to gather after the 1st of November.

J. S. Fowler has invested in a peanut roaster, and now keeps hot peanuts for sale. He has also added a choice line of French and plain candles to his stock, which he is offering at low prices.

Those who attend the Stock Show at Pendleton next Tuesday will see some of the finest stock that has ever been on exhibition in this State. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend.

The price of that excellent food, the Carolina Cabbage, which is published in Columbus, S. C., has been reduced for a short time to 75 cents for single subscriptions, or two, to separate persons, for $1.25.

Dr. A. P. Johnston returned home from his trip to Washington last Saturday. He came by Newberry, where he found Mrs. Johnston quite sick. She is improving, and will return home this week.

The "Hygeia" Tobacco, which has been advertised in our columns for several weeks past, and to which we call attention, has arrived, and is on the shelves of the prominent dealers who represent the manufacturers, reports larger sales of this tobacco than they anticipated, and this has caused the delay in its arrival.

We would gently hint to our subscribers who are behind with their subscriptions that now is a good time to pay up. We have waited until the harvest, and would like a little of it now in the shape of cash.

Two of our young lawyers, Messrs. A. M. Pickett and F. C. Whitner, left Anderson last Friday for Alabama.

That "stopping place" will be Greenville, and from there they will prospect until they locate.

Prof. J. B. Watkins, of Honea Path, spent a day or two in the city last week with his brother, and while here paid us a call. He is the efficient Principal of the Honea Path High School, and is a most excellent gentleman.

Mr. J. C. Hamlin, of this County, went to Orangeburg last week to attend the trial of the murderers of his brother, who was killed a few months ago by two men named Norton. The murderers were convicted and sentenced to be hung in December.

The Greenville correspondent of the Abbeville Press and Banner says: "Messrs. Jameson, Tucker and Anderson, three of Anderson County's handsome young men, have been visiting friends in our township recently." The Anderson boys just won't let the Abbeville girls alone.

The County Treasurer's books will open for the collection of taxes on the 15th October, and our people should begin to lay by the dimes and dollars so as to be able to pay up at once, and avoid the rush that always takes place when the time for closing the books draws near.

Judge Cox, of the Probate Court, was taken sick last week, and, fearing that he was going to have a serious spell, went to his home in Belton on Thursday. He remained there until Tuesday, when he returned to the city, feeling all right again. The Judge needs a wife to "soothe his aching brow" when he gets sick.

"What are these bird cages worth?" said a young man, as he stepped into one of our dry goods stores the other day. "These are not bird cages," replied the polite clerk, "but are bustles, and if you want one I will sell it to you cheap."

The young man said he did not need one right now, and went on his way a wiser man.

The students of the Patrick Military Institute have re-organized the Calopemian Literary Society, and have elected the following officers: President, H. M. Allen; Vice-President, M. O. Ligon; Secretary and Treasurer, J. D. Lowman; Editor, Lieut. John M. Patrick; Censor, M. H. Dean; Chaplain, A. E. Arnold. The Society will hold its regular meetings every other Monday night.

The appointments of Bishop Howe, of the Episcopal Church, are as follows: Abbeville—Sunday, October 2; Anderson—Wednesday, October 5, at 11 a. m.; Pendleton—Friday, October 7, at 11 a. m.; Greenville—Sunday, October 9; Seneca City—Tuesday, October 11, at 11 a. m.; Walhalla—Wednesday, October 12, at 11 a. m. He will administer Confirmation and the Holy Communion.

The New York Cash Store's advertisement will not doubt attract the attention of every one of our readers. Mr. Arnstein, the courteous proprietor, is just back from the markets, where he spent considerable time in selecting a very large stock of goods, which is now ready for the inspection of the trading public. His stock in every department is complete, and all he asks is a call to convince you that he can please you in both styles and prices.

List of letters remaining in the Post-office for the week ending September 28th: B. W. Brown, Col. P. Benson; J. M. Brown, J. H. Burchhalter (2); Carey D. Chambliss, Mrs. Margaret Deal, Ed. Fant, Mrs. E. J. Howard, W. P. Harris, Miss Lizzie Harris, Miss T. Howell, Jerry Hobson, Jerry Hopkin, Charley Miller, Miss Dollie and Emma Morton, James R. Norman, Mosser Norris, Salmon Redmond, Charles B. Richards, W. F. Williams, Emmanuel Watkins.

We were pleased to meet Hon. Joseph H. Ezrie, the accomplished Attorney General of South Carolina, in Anderson on Wednesday. His visit was one of pleasure and business combined. The Legislature at its last session referred the claims of the State to the Hon. Ezrie, and in what is familiarly known as the Brown claims, to him for information, and as some of the grants relating thereto are in the location office in this County, their inspection required his presence here.

The Piedmont Exposition in Atlanta opens on the 10th and closes on the 22nd October. The Richmond & Danville Railroad will sell round-trip tickets from the 8th to the 20th of October, inclusive, good until 22nd October, from the following points, via Seale, at the rate named: Anderson, $3.40; Honea Path, $3.75; Belton, $3.60; Williamston, $3.75; Pelzer, $3.80; Pendleton, $3.20. These rates include admission to the Exposition. President Cleveland will spend Tuesday, 18th October, in Atlanta, and that no doubt will be the "big day" of the Exposition.

Last Sunday night, about 11 o'clock, Grace Fostine, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Ragsdale, of this city, died, after a very painful illness of several days' duration. She was about two years of age, and was an exceedingly sweet, bright and interesting little girl. The grief-stricken parents have the deepest sympathy of our whole city in their bereavement. After impressive funeral services, conducted by Rev. A. Marshall, on Monday morning, the little flower was laid under the sod, in the Baptist cemetery, to bloom in the Eternal Garden.

Mr. F. C. Whitner having resigned the position of Clerk of the City Council, the meeting of the Council was held last Friday to elect his successor. There were three applicants for the position, Messrs. C. Wardlaw, R. Y. H. Nance and J. D. Maxwell, either one of whom are fully qualified for the position. Mr. Wardlaw offered to accept the position at a salary of $150.00, and to give a bond for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office. Mr. Nance signified his willingness to discharge the duties for $200.00 a year. Mr. Maxwell was elected at a salary of $350.00, the salary being fixed by the Council.

On last Saturday morning as Mr. Jephtha Harper and wife were nearing the bridge over the railroad cut, in the city, a child driving a goat wagon came out of the bridge, frightening the mule so that it overturned the buggy, hurting both Mr. and Mrs. Harper, and breaking the legs and other parts of the buggy. Mr. Harper was badly bruised and had one leg dislocated. He received prompt medical attention, and was able to return home that evening. We hope no permanent injury was occasioned, and that by this time both parties are entirely over their injuries.

The stores of Messrs. Arnstein and Lester were closed on Wednesday, 28th inst., for the purpose of observing "Yom Kippur," which began on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock and continued for twenty-four hours. The day is the most solemn of the entire year to all Hebrews. It is the day when atonement for any sins committed during the year is publicly sought. Every Jew on this day endeavors to be at peace with his Creator and with all his fellow men, and to observe the day with features of this, as it is of all Jewish holy days. During the services in the synagogues those whose relatives have died during the year, while the memorial service is being read, and each of those who have entered eternity during the year is mentioned by name by the Rabbi. The day is one of strict fasting, no food or drink being taken for the twenty-four hours from sundown to sundown.

A negro man applied to Mr. G. I. Stevenson in this County for a job last Tuesday. Mr. Stevenson hired him, and that night after he had hired the negro took Mr. Stevenson's horse and hitched him to Mr. Stevenson's buggy and made a drive for Greenville. The stolen property was missed next morning and the negro was pursued. He was inquiring the way to Greenville. A war was waged between the Justice Wardlaw for his arrest, and the pursuit was still continued. The name of the thief is not known. He is about five feet high. The horse is a sorrel, and blind in right eye. Since the above was put in type we learn the negro has been caught. Telegrams were sent to various places, and while they were passing over the wires, Mr. Brown Wilson, the operator at Belton, caught the message. A few minutes afterwards the negro, with the horse and buggy, appeared on the streets of Belton, and he was at once arrested.

Mrs. Mary W. Arnold, wife of Mr. L. T. Arnold, died at her home near Lowndesville last Thursday evening, in the 77th year of her age. She had been in feeble health for several months past, and on Tuesday before her death she was stricken with paralysis, which caused her death. Mrs. Arnold was for a long number of years a resident of Anderson, and was well known throughout this section. She was a lady of many excellent virtues, and throughout her long life exemplified all the characteristics of a true Christian. Her many noble deeds of charity and kindness will long be cherished by her friends, all of whom deeply regret her death. She was a faithful member of the Baptist Church. Her remains were brought to this city on Friday afternoon and interred in the Baptist cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. S. Murray and Rev. A. A. Marshall. An aged husband, one son and four daughters survive her.

The news and courier, of last Friday morning, contained the following: "Miss Samuella Brown, of Anderson, S. C., who is under engagement to study medicine and then go to China as a missionary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, came to Charleston on Tuesday last, and is to sail for New York to-day on the steamer Seminole. In view of her presence in the city a mass meeting of the city Women's Methodist Missionary Society was held at Bethel Chapel on Wednesday, at 5 p. m. The Rev. J. M. Boyd presided and conducted the opening devotions, assisted by the Rev. John O. Wilson and the Rev. L. F. Beatty. Miss Brown was introduced, and made a touching address, relating her experience and her convictions of duty to the best of her ability. She told her story modestly but impressively, and asked the sympathy and co-operation of the ladies in the cause of missions. A young lady sang an appropriate hymn very sweetly, and the Rev. Mr. Wilson made a brief address, assuring Miss Brown that she would be regarded and upheld all present to cherish most hearty memories of the gifted young lady who was giving her all for the good of humankind. The meeting was very much enjoyed by the large assembly of ladies who were in attendance."

A deep gloom was cast over the city late last Saturday afternoon when the telegraph wire brought the sad news that our young townsman, Mr. Antony C. Pinkind, had died in Pendleton. It was not generally known that he was even dead, and consequently the news of his death was a great shock to many of his friends. About four weeks ago Mr. Pinkind was taken sick, but he did not give up, thinking he could wear away his bad feelings. He continued to grow weaker, however, and two weeks ago last Friday he went to Pendleton to spend a few days with his sister, Mrs. J. N. Hunter, believing that the change would prove beneficial. In this he was disappointed, for soon after his arrival he was prostrated, and was never able to be up again. For a number of years Mr. Pinkind had been engaged as a clerk in Simpson, Reid & Co.'s drug store, and by his pleasant, agreeable disposition and quiet, unobtrusive manner had made a friend of every one with whom he came in contact. He was about 29 years of age, and was a steady, upright young man. He was an active member of the Independent Hook and Ladder Company, and was a good fireman. His remains were laid to rest in the Episcopal cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev. T. F. Gadsden conducting the funeral services. A large number of his friends and brother firemen went up from this city and attended the funeral. His remains were escorted to the grave by members of the Hook and Ladder Company and the Knights of Honor, of which he was also a member. His bereaved mother and sister have the deepest sympathy of many friends.

Pendleton Stock Show.

Do not forget that Tuesday, Oct. 4th, is the day for the grand show of stock at Pendleton. Let every one who has a colt or horse, cow or calf that he desires to show or sell, be sure to be on hand that day, for that will be his best opportunity for either or both. There will be matches for both trotting and running horses. Entries to be made by 9 a. m. Tuesday. Refreshment stands will be on the grounds, and a good dinner can be secured also. Premium lists now ready and will be mailed on application to Fair Committee at Pendleton.

A Growing Educational Center.

WILLIAMSTON, Sept. 19, 1887.

Mr. Editor: As your paper is alive to the educational interest of the County, it may interest you to know of the efforts being made here for the education of the young men and boys of this community. The Williamson Male High School Company have now under contract a handsome building, situated in a beautiful grove of oaks. The house is 30 by 55 feet, with a wing 20 by 30 feet, and has a cloak and hat room, a library room, and a room for school apparatus. It will be fitted up with modern school desks and seats of improved design, and the windows are large, and placed at such parts of the house as to admit of the best ventilation for the pupils. The services of Prof. L. S. McGowan, A. M., has been secured as Principal, and he will open the school on the 3rd of October, under bright prospects. The tuition charges have been fixed at two, three and four dollars per month, thus putting it within the reach of all. It can be as well as a room in good families. If the number of students require it, Prof. McGowan will employ an assistant. Mr. McGowan comes to us with excellent testimonials from institutions where he has taught in this State, Georgia and Texas. He is especially recommended for his proficiency in Mathematics, being gifted with a rare talent in imparting knowledge in this important branch. A ample grounds surround the Academy for a campus, and it proposes to erect swings and gymnastics for exercise and amusement of the boys. A special Act of the Legislature prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors within two miles, and when this fact is considered, together with the healthfulness of our town, the Academy, and its spaciousness, it makes Williamson a desirable place for such a school.

The Board of Directors are to be consulted in all important matters connected with the school, thus becoming our advisory board, with Prof. McGowan. Already is the influence of this enterprise being felt, as several new citizens are locating here. Mr. P. D. Hunt, from Greenville County, has bought the Hodge place, and Mrs. John D. Gray, of Georgia, has bought Mr. Andrew Harris' place. Capt. Wm. Austin has bought the Blake place—namely, moving here to educate their sons and daughters. Other enquiries are constantly being received, and every empty house in town will soon be occupied.

The Female College, under the management of Dr. Lander, has opened with cheering prospects, and new students are coming in on every train. With the Female College and the Male High School here, it certainly is a good place for families to live and educate their children.

It is contemplated soon to build a modern Hotel to accommodate visitors wishing to use the mineral spring for their health—and when the Cumberland Gap Road is built, we will go on "a boom."

The new Council propose raising a larger amount of money than has been heretofore collected, and expend it in improving the streets and beautifying the Park.

Mr. A. T. Reid has opened a store in the Crumley building, and his many friends will be glad to know of his getting on his feet again.

Mrs. John Richardson is very low with consumption.

Mr. James Anderson has gone to Harvard College to put on the finishing touches of his education.

"WILLIAMSTON."

Teachers' Association.

The next meeting of the Anderson County Teachers' Association will be held at the Honea Path, October 14th and 15th.

The following is a list of some of the subjects to be discussed and the names of the teachers who will be expected to open the discussions:

Teachers Help—S. G. Sterling, Miss Olivia Newton.

How to teach Geography—C. O. Burris, Miss A. K. Major.

Encouragements of teachers—D. H. Russell, Miss Alice Davis.

Reading and writing—W. P. Holland, P. B. Langston, A. J. Watt.

This short programme is for Saturday, 15th. The understanding is that the whole of Friday afternoon is to be spent with Prof. Watkins's school. Teachers will all please try to reach Honea Path by noon, Friday.

The Association has a pressing invitation from the good people of Honea Path, and every assurance that the welcome will be a hearty one.

J. G. CLINKSCALES, J. M. LANDER, LEMORA C. HUBBARD, Ex. Com.

Attention, Farmers!

A Mass Meeting of the Farmers of Anderson County will be held in the Court House on the first Monday in October, at 12 o'clock, to elect officers for the ensuing year, and to elect delegates to the Annual Convention of the Farmers' Association, and to transact any other business presented.

Every farmer in the County is solicited to be present and take part in the business which will be brought up.

D. K. NORRIS, County Chairman.

Let the Birds Alone.

Mr. Editor: It is a violation of law to kill or pursue with intent to kill partridges, etc., between 1st April and 1st November. Some persons are violating this law. I desire to notify all such that they will be prosecuted unless they hold up till first November. SPORTSMAN.
